pointee from this city. THE JAPANESE EMBASSY MUDDLE. - The Japan Herald says that Iwakura complained formally that he was unable to accomplish at Weshington his own treaty designs on account of the opposition of Mori, the Japanese charge d'affairs. Uyeno has been appointed the successor of Mori.

Col. John S. Moser is out in a card denying the statement which appeared in the Patriot of the 2d inst., that he is the agent and proprietor of a marble quarry situated on the left bank of the Potomac, and in that capacity is about to put in a bid for furnishing headstones to the national cemeteries. He says: "This state-ment is a lie from beginning to end, and known to be such by the cowardly slanderer who

How the DEMOCRACY CARRIED GEORGIA Henry P. Farrow, chairman of the Georgia republican state central committee, telegraphs to this city from Atlanta, saying: "Telegrams, letters, and special messengers from all parts of the state show such universal and outrageous interference with freedmen's suffrage that the state central committee is called to meet Tuesday next for consultation. Freedmen were almost universally prohibited from voting."

THE REPORT of the engineer in charge of the survey of the proposed canal connecting the Tennessee river with the Atlantic Ocean at Savannah, Ga., which reached the War department too late to prepare and present to Congress at its last session, has been put in proper order, and will be sent to Congress early in December next. It is very probable that the President, in a special message on the subject, will recommend favorable action on the matter. The projectors of this canal desire government aid to the extent of seventeen million dollars.

MASONIC EMBLEMS CANNOT BE USED AS TRADE MARKS. - Acting Commissioner of Patents, Thacher, has rendered a decision on an appeal from the decision of the examiners affirming the action of the latter in refusing the registration of a Masonic symbol as a trade mark. In his decision Judge Thacher says: "Among Masons, with whom this token has a moral significance, its use in that capacity would undoubtedly be regarded as a base prostitution of it to mercenary purposes, while with others its mystic force would often dissipate its virtues as a trade-mark, and, perhaps, in some instances place the article it appeared upon under a ban.

NAVAL OFFICERS TRANSFERRED .- Ordered: Commander Lewis A. Kimberly to duty in the bureau of equipment and recruiting; Midshipmen Frank A. Sawyer, Daniel F. Baker, James H. Winlock, and Howard S. CONNECTING THE TWO OCEANS-Surveys for a Ship Canal Between the Atlantic and Pacific .-No orders have been issued by the Navy department regarding the fitting out and sailing of the Nicaragua surveying expedition. It is well known, however, that Commander Edward P. Lull has been selected to command the expedition. Commander Lull has had great experience in inter-oceanic canal surveys, having been second in command of the two Darien expeditions-of 1870 and 1871. In the survey of the Nicaragua route Commander Lull will have the assistance of some of the most experienced officers in the navy, including Lieutenant Commander Schultz and Lieutenant Jefferson P. Moser, both of whom served on the Darien expedition. It is not expected that this expedition will find a feasible canal route in Nicaragua. Still the government is anxious to establish by accurate surveys the practicability or impracticability of the different routes. The last Darien expedition, under command of Capt. Thomas O. Selfridge, it is generally believed, found the only practicable route on the continent, and there seems to be little doubt but what the board of engineers authorized to examine the surveys of the different routes will decide in favor of the Napipi route. Commander Selfridge thinks he can even better the route by a location just a few miles below the surveyed route, and for this purpose will make a reconnoissance from the Atrator river to the Pacific during the coming winter, Congress at its last session having appropriated five thousand dollars for that purpose. The Colombian government is very anxious to have a canal route fixed and the work commenced, in order that the resources of the country bordering on the Atrator river may be developed, it being considered about the finest portion of the United States of Colombia. The weakness of that government and the hostility of the Indians to immigation has prevented any attempts in the way of agricultural or mining operations. Even the old Spaniards failed to subdue the Darien Indians.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL.-The board of directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal met in Annapolis yesterday. The president submitted a report, in which he says :-The total earnings of the canal for the month of September was $55,873.22; expenses ordinary, extraordinary, and pay of officers, $15,203.39. The increase in tonnage as compared with corresponding period of 1870 is 25,015 tons; decrease as compared with 1871 of 13,586 tons. This decrease is attributed mainly to the extraordinary low state of water in the Potomac river, and navigation is now seriously interfered with on the Cumberland division. Although we are using all the water in the river at Cumberland, it has been found necessary to reduce the topnage of boats from 120 to 90 and 100 tons. Notwithstanding this there is an increase in the revenue as compared with corresponding period of 1876 of $18,169.50, and decrease as compared with 1871 of $1.848.30, while the decrease in the revenue from June 1st to October 1st, as compared with 1871, is $11,740,50.

THE OLD PRW - Some Sound Suggestions of Improvement .- It is a singular anomaly that while we have superseded the old straight benches of the school houses with curved-back chairs; while we deem cushion settees and patent arms to each seat essential to the enjoyment of the lively and engrossing drama; and while in our own houses we use arm chairs, and rockers at pleasure, nevertheless, in churches, where it is undeniably difficult to sustain the attention of the congregation, we still content ourselves with the old-fashioned pew, cushioned, to be sure, but still oflering support to only one of the four sides of the body. To say nothing of the absurd angle at which the back of the pew is sometimes pitched, the fact that it has no arms is sufficient explanation of the drawn countenances hat stare up in a vacant way at the preacher long before he has finished his discourse, and also of the stereotyped complaint of nervous headache after service on the part of the ladies. To aggravate the matter, a vicious custom gives the next seat to the aisle, the only one with an arm, to the man. If a certain portion of the floors of our churches were left vacant, there would be many who would prefer to provide there own seats, or, if they should render the appearance of the church too motley, a uniform chair might be adopted in place of the present pew. Of course, the pastor would not object, as no one would disturb the easy sofa in the MASKED BURGLARS IN A LADY'S CHAMBER Early on Monday morning two burglars, with faces covered with black masks, entered the house No. 1229 Catharine street, Philadelphia, which is occupied by Mr. Anthony Rue and family. Mr. Rue is a conductor on the sireet cars, and was not at home at the time. The thieves entered the apartment in which Mrs. Rue was sleeping. One of the men bent over the bed and looked suspiciously at Mrs. Rue, but, although awake, she stirred not a muscle, and he was satisfied that she was sleeping. The men then ransacked a bureau which was near the bed and took out a handful of silver coin, a number of silver spoons and a roll of bills containing $135. While the burglars were thus engaged one of the children in the bed moved, and one of the men stepped to the bed, and as his companion turned to watch what he did, the other fellow said, "Go on with your work; never mind me; I'll soon fix 'em if they make any noise."
